Very vintage

Draw inspiration from an era that will never go out of fashion.

Text Benafar J. Mirza

Let's rewind to the early 20th century. Nothing can compare to the pose and charm that the men and women of that time exuded. Clothes were chic, hair was stylish and make-up, oh-so-striking. Here, beautiful Aamna Sharif is given the look and feel of that period by Seema V. Jerajani, Creative Director and Proprietor, Fusions Salon.

HAIR

Aamna looks striking in her black and white halter dress, and Seema accentuates it further with the grand hairstyle. Except the fringe, the rest of her hair is put in a big donut bun at the crown. The fringe area is then divided into smaller sections. Each is put into a foil, folded and ironed. The folds in the hair are created to match the crinkles in the collar of her dress. A white hairpiece is attached to complete the look and take it to a whole new level.

MAKE-UP

Seema begins by applying an iridescent natural brown eye-shadow. A shimmering darker brown shade applied at the crease of her eye enhances the depth. She then uses a black gel eye-liner to give Aamna's eyes the typical, well-defined vintage look, extending it beyond the eyes to the end of the eyebrow. A natural blush is applied, and, finally, she works on the most striking part — the lips. Seema says, "Aamna has beautiful lips, which are brought out by a red lipstick."
