

Summer up-dos are sleek, elegant and easy to achieve. It is a great time to show off your client's pretty face by wearing her hair up and keeping her cool at the same time!

Beautiful hair is a woman's most noticeable feature. Up-do hairstyles are great because they lend themselves to a number of variations which can complement that perfect dress and style.

Up-dos can have many variations, whether hair is long or short. Women with short hair lengths can use extensions to create updo hair styles as well. With skills such as swirls, loops, and the popular french twist, the selection of updo hairstyles is possibly the hardest part.

A bun is an all-time popular up-do. It can take on different shapes and forms while the French knot is a prototypic formal hairdo for weddings. A flat iron helps in getting the edges of hair into a soft curve. Hot rollers and curling irons used along with hair spray gives firm curls, that can be worked well with curled hair up-do styles.

Classy Up-dos are the hair trend this season!

Seema Jairajani - an ace stylist shares this simple up-do technique for Stylespeak readers. Part of her hair is twisted at the crown like a chignon to create a base for the textured twirls. Sections of hair have been then twisted, twirled and then arranged on the chignon to give the final look. The up-style is a mix of a red carpet and a semi formal up-do with a casual streak.
